ALBERTA CHAMPIONSHIPS HERE ON AUGUST 15

Boys and Girls of City and District of Up to Eighteen Years, Train for Big Meet

Forty-Eight Gold, Silver and Bronze Medals and Several Silver Cups to be Competed For in Addition to Many Prizes for Novelty Events—Continuous Program on Track and Within Oval—Notables to Appear in Platform Entertainment

It's up to the boys and girls of Wetaskiwin and surrounding district to start right in training for track and field activities and to devote themselves earnestly to acquiring condition and fitness which will display superiority over competition from throughout the province. On Wednesday, August 15th, it has been definitely decided, the Junior Track and Field Championships of the Alberta Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, will be held in the fair grounds, Wetaskiwin, and it will only be through careful and consistent preparation that this city and district will carry off the lion's share of the awards. The fact was evidenced at the track and field meet held here last Labor Day that this city has much athletic talent of championship calibre, and doubtless there are many who did not participate in the Labor Day sports who would make just as strong a showing if they would only develop an inspiration. This city has been highly honored in being awarded the privilege of staging this very important event, and it is a duty that the boys and girls owe to themselves and the Wetaskiwin Sports Association, which is sponsoring athletic development, to get right down to brass tacks in a deliberate effort to provide competition that will extend our visitors to the limit.

Preliminary arrangements have been well under way for some time, under charge of H. E. Tanner, superintendent of schools, and B. W. Bellamy, past president of the Alberta Branch. Association officials have corresponded with every school teacher in the surrounding school districts, urging preparation among the scholars throughout the entire surrounding country, and from this source alone it is expected that keen competition will be forthcoming. Wetaskiwin is not to play second fiddle to it? It's up to you boys and girls. So make early and consistent development preparation.

There will be sixteen events on the championships program, as follows: For boys under 18: 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, half-mile, mile and five miles, running broad jump, running high jump, running hop, step and jump, pole vault and 124 lb. shot put. For girls under 18: 100 yards, 220 yards, running broad jump, running high jump, and running hop, step and jump.

For each event a gold, silver and bronze medal will be given, the official championship medal of the Alberta Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. In addition to the medal winning the five-mile run, the winner will retain possession for one year of the Wetaskiwin Times silver cup, which is being presented by V. C. French for the occasion. The boys and girls winning the most points in the various competitions will for the next twelve months be in possession of silver cups emblematic of the all-round championship. These cups are being presented by Curt Smith, of the Driad Hotel and the Wetaskiwin Lodge, Local Order of Moose. The city of Wetaskiwin championships will also be decided at this meet, in which competitors will be eligible from within the district of Wetaskiwin, and the silver cups now held by Miss Norma Chidley and French-Brickman jointly will be handed over for the next year to the winners of the aggregate. That five silver cups and forty-eight medals, only part of the elaborate prize list being provided.

Additional athletic events for which valuable prizes donated by the merchants will be given include races for boys and girls under 14 and under 12, the discus throw, bicycle race and numerous novelty races. Tug-of-war, soft ball, basketball and other competitions will prove highly attractive. Like a Three-Ring Circus With a continuous program on the

CORRECTION
Through a typographical error in last week's report of the Convention of the U.P.A. Federal Constituency, the name of Mr. E. B. Sparks instead of that of Mrs. E. B. Sparks was given as having been elected vice-president of the organization. The error is regretted and of course, was quite unintentional.

Dr. F. G. Guleson is moving into the premises recently vacated by Dr. Gunderson at the north east corner of Pearce and Alberta streets.

Mr. "Jimmy" Horns, of the Pantages Orchestra, Edmonton, was an added member of the Moonbeams during the Carnival at the rink.

Mr. Gustav Halverson and daughter, Mrs. Otto Dahl, of Berlin, N.H., are visiting at the home of Mr. Halverson's sister, Mrs. Carl H. Johnson.

Miss Evelyn Johnston of the University hospital staff, Edmonton, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Johnston.

B. Nowell is opening a new automobile service station and repair of the opposite The Times office. He is also installing a five hundred gallon gasoline tank.

Rev. Appelt will be out of the city from Saturday until Monday night, as he is taking the services at Golden Spike on the occasion of the Mission Festival at that place.

H. B. Bliss of Blackie, Alberta, has been appointed by the Wheat Pool, manager of its new Wetaskiwin elevator. Mr. Bliss is now here and expects to bring his family to Wetaskiwin about the middle of July.

Under the auspices of the Hall committee, a sports day is being put on at the Lone Ridge hall on July 11th. A real good time is being arranged for, and is being made certain by a dance in the hall in the evening. Scott's orchestra will provide the music for the dance.

The Dominion Day sports at Buck Lake attracted a large gathering of people from the districts west of Wetaskiwin. Races of all kinds were run off and the water sports were especially fine. Two baseball games were played, the first between Winfield and Buck Lake, the latter winning, in the second game played in the evening. Pandey won from Buck Lake.

V. C. French returned on Sunday night from the Kivans Convention at Seattle which he attended as delegate from the Wetaskiwin club. He reports a large and enthusiastic convention. Mr. French with Mrs. French left to-day for Edmonton and Jasper, where he will attend sessions of the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

B. E. Boyd of Salem, Oregon, a former resident of Wetaskiwin district, is visiting old friends and looking after business interests here. Motoring up from Oregon, Mr. Boyd found business conditions good all the way, with building going ahead by leaps and bounds both in the coast States and Western Canada. Farming conditions in Oregon are not as good as they might be owing to the high price of land, $100 an acre, the minimum price, and it costs $150 an acre to clear, so that with labor high, profits are often very small.

Steady Downpour on Third Day Deals a Solar Plexus to Local Ball Tournament

Red Deer and Wetaskiwin Yet to Play, With the Winners Slated to Tackle the Viking Gang for the Big Prize Money—Ponoka Makes Gallant Stand, But Viking Ramps Away From Innisfail—Arrangements to Be Made for Play-offs Here

Great weather for crops, but drenched tough on the diamond pasture! Yesterday's continuous downpour of aqua pura put a crimp in the Wetaskiwin baseball tournament, for the time being. It was not long after the local magnates had partaken of their toast and coffee that they decided there wasn't even any use in hoping. All season the local horsehide chasers had been hoping for some breaks in the game, but yesterday hopes for breaks in the weather were useless. So the big delays were called off temporarily, it being expected that hostilities will be opened up again before the golden grain is ready for harvesting operations.

Red Deer, Wetaskiwin and Viking are still in the running; or, rather, these three teams are billed to fight it out for that "big money." The general impression is that Red Deer and Wetaskiwin have as much chance of winning the finals as Manager has of negotiating the Atlantic non-stop flight. Monday afternoon New Norway and Wetaskiwin were marked up to meet the winners of the Tuesday afternoon game between Ponoka and Red Deer, the latter proving to be the victors after a spirited contest. By virtue of tramping all over the Innisfail crew, the Viking aggregation was given a place in the finals. As matters stand now, when suitable arrangements can be made, Red Deer will play Wetaskiwin and the winner will tackle Viking.

The "Windy" Dyer, of Edmonton, handled the Indians in Tuesday's tilts, and gave decided satisfaction.

New Norway walked off with the exhibit on ball game, which was packed full of thrills in the latter stages. The locals got away to a bad start, spotting the visitors a trio of counters in the initial spasm. Scott, a newcomer, occupied the knoll for the Wets, and, though he exhibited signs of having a varied assortment of shots, he didn't appear to be in the best of condition. With one away in the first stanza, Ryan dropped O's steady throw from Carr's bat and B. Olstead got free transportation.

Singles by Hamby and Poocek scored a run, but Poocek pulled a boner by running to second with the middle and third pillows occupied. Two more runs were accounted for by C. Olstead's triple. With two away in the second, Murray smashed one at Scott too dirty to handle; the elongated hooter mopped up Carr's grounder and Murray crossed the pan on B. Olstead's single to right. Scott got along very nicely after that, but complained of soreness in his arm and in the fifth Hodson took up the burden, proceeding to retire the visitors in order by the strike-out route and holding the double-less hitless until the eighth. In the ninth the visitors went on another rampage to put the game on ice, the score in the eighth being 4 to 2 in favor of the N.N.s. Gates got through a safety, and the next two were retired. Carr's drive over third tallied Yates and after Carr purloined

The keenest interest of the day was manifested in the Ponoka-Red Deer game, which went to the southerners principally on account of the mastery of hurling of the famous Joe Baldwin, of Chive, who was aided and abetted by a palpable weakness around the key-stone sack by "Dad" Bond, the Ponoka veteran, in the early stages. Our old friend Dittburner turned in a very nice game on the mound for the losers, who, in the closing frames made things decidedly interesting for the Deers, who sneaked out a two-run victory. There was no scoring until the fifth, when a double by W. Blades, a single by M. Blades, and two errors by Bond gave the Deers a couple of counts, which clean fielding would have prevented. In the seventh Dittburner had a bad time. With one away, Lowe singled. Hilliker fouled out and two were down. Beatty rolled out a double which brought in a tally and Cameron's single added another. Then Ponoka staged a rally, coming within an ace of taking the lead. Stoddard hit safely, Wikstark drew a pass and Lewis stuck out a two-sacker, scoring Stoddard. Watson's single accounted for a pair of runs. Bures banged a stizzling liner (Continued on Page 6)

Music Students Successful in Exams

Dr. D. J. Jennings, who is an interesting visitor in the city, is internationally known as an accomplished musician and critic. He is now on his tour of various centres, where he examines music students of the London College of Music. This year, Dr. Jennings' work is even heavier than usual, but his excellent qualifications will help him, as in former occasions with his task.

Dr. Jennings has made a life study of music, and is well known as an organist and choir leader on this continent, as in the old country. He was born in the north of England and it was here that he first made his fame in the musical world. He was at one time the owner of the York College of Music, Yorkshire, in Brighton. Dr. Jennings' recitals were a delightful feature of the Sunday evening services of the church with which he was associated.

This noted musician is a graduate of Toronto University and Trinity University of Toronto, and has made many friends in the Dominion to which he has contributed so much in musical development.

Dr. Jennings was the examiner for the London College of Music examinations held in Wetaskiwin last Saturday, when the following candidates successfully passed:

Elementary—Honors, Eleanor Estor Somers; 1st class pass, Alexander Lassell, Marjorie Hope Montgomery, Edna Francis Hall.

Intermediate—1st class pass, Jean Peterson.

Kommunity Karnival Ces Over Big and Bad Weather Fails t Bust Up the Wurx

Off to a first-class start on Monday afternoon with a few words of greeting and welcome from Mayor Montgomery, with ideal weather and a large holiday crowd present at the Fair Grounds ready for a good time, the Wetaskiwin Carnival left nothing to be desired as it ran its course for the first two days. On Wednesday the weather man interfered and heavy downpours of rain all day necessitated closing off all games and other attractions scheduled for the fair grounds. In spite of the weather on Wednesday, in the evening the booths and dancing pavilion did a rushing business and all enjoyments.

At the Fair Grounds, Monday, Mrs. Emma's dancing, who had become prime favorably, won enthusiastic applause for numbers they gave. Misses Hankelson and Vickers, the trio of young ladies will represent Wetaskiwin and Alberta at the Toronto biton did their stunts and received enthusiastic applause of the crowd.

Monday and Tuesday nights the curling rink was crowd capacity; the different booths a roaring business and the dancemillion was the busiest place in all Alberta. The music of the orchestra gave the necessary touch of life and gaiety which kept everyone on the move and in good spirits. Owing to the rain on Wednesday there was not the attendance from the outside which had been anticipated, but the home town folks turned out at the rink and spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

The booths all attracted interest, even the good old game of horse shoes under the glamor of the orchestra and dancing feet in the adjoining pavilion was busy. The hot dogs in a booth on the other side of the

Replevied Goods Plaintiff's Property

At a special sittings of the District Court held at Wetaskiwin on June 27 and 28, the case of Ernest Dufva vs. Emil Dufva was heard by His Honor Judge Lees. It was a replevin action and involved the ownership of certain horses, machinery and furniture valued at $535 and damages for their alleged wrongful taking and detention by the defendant from the month of April last. On Nov. 4th, 1924, the defendant leased his land to his brother the plaintiff, for term of three years and the plaintiff was to "receive" the chattels according to the written document signed up by the parties at the time.

The plaintiff by the agreement was to clear the title of the defendant's land from a certain mortgage on which there was a balance of $1125.00. Did the plaintiff "receive" the absolute ownership of the chattels or did he simply receive the "use" of them during the three years of the lease?

The defendant counterclaimed for damages for alleged negligence in summer-fallowing some 40 acres in 1927 which according to the lease the plaintiff was bound to do. The plaintiff claimed that a reasonably good job was done in connection with this summer-fallowing having regard to conditions of weather and soil.

His Honor Judge Lees reserved his decision at the conclusion of the case, but has since handed down judgment which holds that the goods replevied are the property of the plaintiff as against the defendant and that the plaintiff is entitled to the sum of $50 damages against the defendant for being deprived of the use of his chattels for about a month during the spring of 1928. The plaintiff gets the costs of the action and the defendant's counterclaim is dismissed with costs.

W. H. Odell for the plaintiff, Alex. Knox for the defendant.

CANADA'S BIRTHDAY

Another first of July with its pleasures and celebrations—and since it fell this year on a Sunday—with many references in our church services to the event reminds us that Canada is now entering an era of unexampled expansion and prosperity.

For centuries the natural riches of the land, whose extent even now is only vaguely guessed at, were not even dreamed of. Now, with an inevitable influx of people and capital our country seems about to come into its own.

The past year has been one of solid progress. Our own Province and district have felt the beneficial effect of last fall's harvest, while the promises of a yet better one this year, makes the task of celebrating a national birthday an easy one. Our agricultural prosperity at present is the foundation of our well-being. But mines, waterfalls and manufacturing promise before long to tremendously augment the amount annually won through agriculture.

SILENT POLICEMEN

The city has installed silent policemen at the centres of intersection of Pearce and Alberta, Pearce and Macdonald, Pearce and Railway, and Railway and Landsdowne streets. In their natty white summer uniforms with red trimmings, and the usual large and heavy feet, there is no mistaking their function. Though they are silent, still upon occasion they can give evidence against careless motorists, as one of the latter found out the other evening. He ran into the policeman, leaving considerable paint from his car upon the nice new uniform of the speechless cop—which should be all that is required to convict the driver of being either careless or very inept.

THE STORES

Retail stores are doing business today on a smaller margin of profit than ever.

The higher range of prices prevailing since the war has stimulated competition and has forced retail trade to remodel its system of operation and to make every possible improvement and economy in its methods. The stores are saving a margin for the public as a result of improved distribution.

Merchants today are putting more brains in their work. They get better expert advice, they understand markets better, they train their employees to render better service.

The best way to make the people realize the fine quality of the service they get from their stores is by consistent advertising of those stores. As they read the newspaper advertising people learn about special chances to buy goods which they would never have known about otherwise.

They learn that stores are carrying lines that they knew nothing about. They get information warning them of conditions that tend toward higher prices, and showing how they can save money by prompt purchasing. They discover that their home stores are working mightily to provide the necessities and conveniences of life at the lowest possible price consistent with substantial merit.

The advertised store is the appreciated store.

THE CARNIVAL

The carnival for the first two days of this week has made Wetaskiwin the Mecca of thousands of visitors. The weather was ideal enabling many motorists from all parts of the Province to reach here without inconvenience or delay.

The organizations in charge—the Sports Association, the Kiwanis and the Elks—have spent a lot of time and gone to much trouble and succeeded in providing a program of sports and carnival attractions which enabled visitors to carry away a pleasant and satisfied recollection of their visit to Wetaskiwin.

Taxation

(Research Bulletin)

It is quite easy to generalize under this heading and it is just as easy to go far afield and make up a very pretty case. For instance, the rise and fall of the Roman Empire, the atrocities in Turkey, the existence of the American Republic, the Communist movement, might all be treated under the title of this short article.

The intention, however, is to give a few facts which might be worth restating on the grounds that progress and improvement can best be made if based on knowledge and experience.

There are four elected and tax levying bodies in Canada, namely, the Dominion Government, the Provincial Government, the Municipalities and the School Boards.

Speaking for the cities only as part of the Municipalities it is rather remarkable that of the four divisions referred to, the only one to reduce taxation as compared with pre-war levies is the Municipalities. I have no doubt this applies in general to towns and villages also, but have not had an opportunity of verifying it. Now it is certain that the Municipal authorities have the most direct taxation in every respect. It is not only true that each municipal tax payer knows what he has to pay and on what he has to pay it, but he knows the reason of a representative or official who decides the amount to be paid. Such is not the case with either of the other governing bodies, for even in the case of the School Boards where the City and School tax amounts are all on one tax notice, few people appear to analyze their tax statements and many regard the total amount as so much of a tax to be paid to the city.

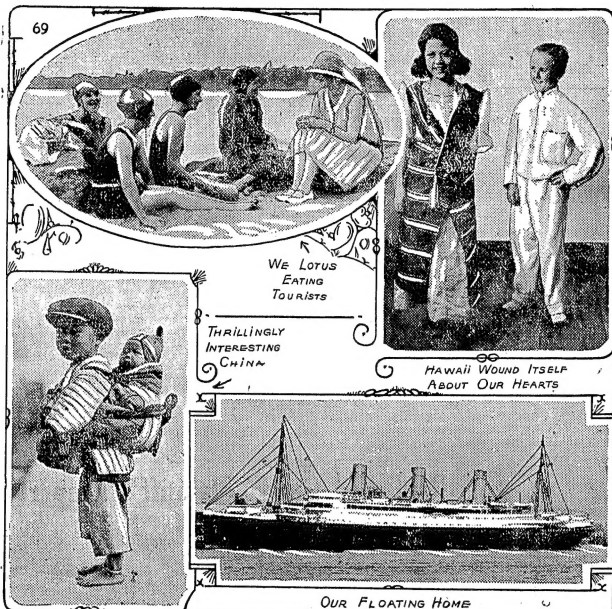

It would seem that owing to the

NEW NATIONAL PARK

Prince Albert National Park, in the northern part of Saskatchewan, is to be opened to the public on August 10th by the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, who is being presented with a cottage on beautiful Lake Waskesiu by his constituents. The 1,400 square miles which comprise this new playground embrace many splendid lakes and streams abounding in fish and providing all the scenic and other requirements which are demanded by the holiday-seeker. The park is most easily reached by way of the Canadian National Railways to Prince Albert and from there by motor road. Waskesiu Lake, where most of the opening festivities will take place, lies about 70 miles north of Prince Albert and the road into it will be completed in plenty of time for the event. An elaborate programme is being planned by the committee and special housing arrangements are being made. In addition to the Prime Minister, many men prominent in the public eye of Canada will attend the opening on August 10th—Map by Canadian National Railways.

Seven Seas Traversed

We passed in luxurious comfort, free from any care or irritating responsibility and absolutely without one disturbing incident from continent to continent," stated Lady Williams-Taylor on her return from a world cruise on board the Canadian Pacific liner, the "Empress of Australia," during which tour five continents, twenty-one countries and twenty-six ports were visited and seven seas traversed. "With sheltered ease," continued Lady Taylor, "we had unfolded to us the soul-penetrating magnificence and the somewhat repellent fanatical conditions of India and distraught, yet ever thrillingly interesting China. We steamed up and down the dangerous Pearl River, and saw first-hand the devastation of Canton. Mysterious Java, and almost untouched Sumatra, held its spell-bound Singapore and its ever growing docks amazed us, and lovely Ceylon enchanted us. But Hawaii wound itself about our hearts and, to its haunting 'Aloha Oe,' we saw it fade away through regretful tears. Not only are the islands more than fascinating, but the Royal Hawaiian Hotel would tempt any traveller to return. Lady Taylor, who "Louise Eating Tourists" have once again to face the realities of ordinary existence without the untiring supervision and perfect organization of the mighty and far-reaching Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamship's protection and care of us. It was, indeed, with hearts full of gratitude and appreciation for our splendid captain, his staff, and for the constant and devoted attention of the cruise directors, that we finally bid farewell to our floating home.

125 Times Around the World

In pursuing its policy of consistent progress—in its continual search for new ideas—in its constant development of better cars... General Motors not only maintains its great International Research Laboratories and hundreds of skillful engineers, but also operates the largest and most completely equipped automobile proving ground in the world.

Here on the vast fourteen-hundred-acre track of the General Motors International Proving Ground, every type of road is duplicated, every condition of driving is reproduced. Here all makes of General Motors cars are constantly being subjected to the most searching tests. Here every principle developed by General Motors engineers is put to proof... every detail of each test car's performance carefully and closely checked. Here years of normal use are crowded into a few months of continuous, grueling operation.

A typical example is offered by Chevrolet. Since the opening of the General Motors Proving Ground, Chevrolet cars alone have piled up over three million miles of testing... a distance equal to 125 times around the world.

In the countless millions of miles that General Motors cars have covered on the General Motors Proving Ground, there has been one great purpose kept in view... to improve, by constant testing, the quality and worth of every General Motors product.

Every Canadian buyer of a General Motors car gets a car built in Canada by Canadians to meet Canadian conditions of road and climate... a better car and a greater value because General Motors uses so freely and unsparingly its unequalled facilities for testing and research... With better General Motors cars at the end of the journey, millions of miles is not too far to go.

It is perhaps a tribute to the Union of Alberta municipalities and other similar bodies enabling those individuals who take up the governing bodies to test by the experience of one another (the per capita taxes of the severer western cities are so nearly at. It is probable that dollar for dollar, no governing body gets better returns from tax mow than the Municipalities.

voiced their ire and wrath at the Tax Collector's counter, and say they never heard of such an enormity as the disgraceful way in which they are taxed in this town, or rather robbed as they put it. They have just bought a home for the first time in their sweet young lives and made the deal without enquiring the probable amount of taxes entailed. They tell the City Officer what they think of him and his town. They do not see the historic background behind the poor Tax Gatherer or care to know the why and wherefore of taxation. Their only thought is of the future

The Rising Costs of Educationization

By Mayor Hardie, Lethbridge

(Research Bulletin)

Readers will remember Mayor Hardie, in the last issue, dealt with the costs of operation, maintenance and building of schools as being appalling, requiring in taxation more than fifty per cent of all realty taxes in the cities of Alberta. He goes on to say:

School Boards even speculate in purchasing property they think will be suitable locations for future school building without paying any taxes on it, only to find, say after ten or fifteen years that it is not suitable for school building purposes. In the meantime the land lies idle that might have been built upon and paying taxes all those fifteen years. School Boards do not select lands that are not the most valuable from a tax paying point of view.

They are not able from training to get the best results in buildings, and the architects usually settle them with an enormous expense in constructing basements that are practically useless for school purposes. In Lethbridge today we have more room in the basement than would twice over provide as much room as the new Collegiate Building at a cost of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

They tell me that a school building must have architectural beauty, as well as provide accommodation. As to that I do not see any architectural beauty in any of our schools, and certainly none that compares with the Capital Building at Edmonton, which has no basement. In that building the basement or ground floor where the offices are, is just as good as the above floors.

When a body of men are elected to fulfill certain offices they should be allowed to fulfill the functions of their office without interference, provided of course, that if any considerable issue arises that was not up at the time of election, the people should be consulted.

However, I must get back to the two points I originally started to discuss, namely, the curriculum and arbitrary powers of the School Boards to demand money from the city, whether it is collected for school purposes or not.

I think it is decidedly true that a Board consisting of members of the Government and the various School Boards, and possibly educators, should have the control of the curriculum so that it could be framed on lines that would give a sound education without frills, which are best acquired by students of their own or their parents' volition. This would avoid crowding upon students the study of subjects that are not the best for their particular mental development. There is no suggestion that every child or young person should not have the best possible education within a community's ability to pay, but in my judgment and that of hundreds of others, we are paying today for what we are not getting. It is not at all apparent that the present generation is getting any better education than the last. More, may be, and possibly are getting the opportunity than formerly, and that is O.K. We are all quite willing to pay to give everyone the right and proper opportunity to get an education that is worth while and gives the best results to the individual student.

I feel quite certain that everyone is at least willing that the question of the revision of the school curriculum should receive discussion and consideration by others as well as the government and those responsible for the present one.

Now as to the School Boards' arbitrary powers to spend money that they are in no way responsible for paying or collecting, I may say that I think the extensive power does not make for economy. It adds nothing to the betterment of education. In fact I am certain it leads to extravagance and waste that is not apparent to those who are not closely watching expenditures and who do not have a considerable knowledge of how the money is expended.

In order that criticism for the taxes for education should be directed at the responsible Board, the School Boards should be responsible for the collection of their own taxes. Failing this, I think the Council should have an ex-officio seat on the School Board with all the powers of membership.

Little Jane gazes questioning up into Lucia's face. "She's got her hair bobbed. And she's awful old. Why mother says she's forty."

Light vanished from Lucia's eyes. She didn't speak. But instead of entering the Beattie Shoppe as had been her intention she murmured good-bye to Jane, bade her be careful at the crossing and hurried straight back home. All the way her heel tapped out echoes of the words: "She's awful old—she's 40."

Never pausing until she had reached her own home and her own room Lucia sought a mirror. True, she saw the same charming reflection that had confronted her half an hour before, but now she was not to be deceived. She was 40—"awful old." To old to have her hair bobbed.

The telephone bell tinkled and she turned to the instrument, which was an extension of the blue downstairs. Alice Cook's voice came over the wire. "Lucia, dear I couldn't stop to talk to you, for Ben was waiting and you know that, although he is a perfectly dear husband, he is a terribly impatient chauffeur. But I was dying to tell you something I had just heard at Miss Revell's."

"What did you hear?" But at that moment Lucia did not care.

"Tom's going to be married!"

"Tom who?"

"Why, Tom Ware, your brother." There followed details of a persistent rumor which was reaching Lucia's ears for the first time. Her brother was a widower, some years older than herself, a successful business man of excellent habits. She kept house for him. She had thought herself established for the rest of her life. But if it was true that Tom was going to be married—and recent happenings somewhat convinced her in spite of the fact that he had not mentioned the subject—she was out of a home.

The conversation ended at last without her betraying the real state of her mind to Alice. Sitting down she tried to think. She had a small income, not enough to live upon. She could not let Tom provide for her after she had ceased to be useful to him. Before Tom's wife died Lucia had earned her own living. She must try to get back into Herbert Pennoyer's office. Then Tom could tell her the secret that had obviously been trembling upon his lips for the last week. Embarrassed between his sister and his love he doubtless had been having a pretty hard time.

Acting upon this new resolution Lucia left the house. It was eight blocks to Herbert Pennoyer's office, and when she arrived there her cheeks were glowing, her eyes sparkling with excitement. A young girl with a glossy marcel rose from the very desk at which she had formerly sat. She looked inquiringly at the graceful woman in blue. Lucia looked back at her, feeling strangely out of place.

Through the glass partition she could see other young girls in the adjoining office. The old faithful had departed. At that instant the door opened and Herbert Pennoyer entered. He was a fine upstanding man of 50, with clear gray eyes and genial manner. His surprise at seeing Lucia was unmistakable. Naturally, he thought she had come to see him about insurance and he asked her into his private office, made her sit down, played the part of a courteous host who feels himself honored by a visit from a charming woman.

Lucia understood. Her visit returned to her. Instead of asking him for a job she made some inquiry about personal insurance. It was half an hour before she could withdraw and then Herbert took her home in his car. As she alighted at her own door Tom drove up in his coupe. He and Herbert were club fellows. Nothing would do but Herbert must come in and have dinner—"just to see what a good cook my sister is." Lucia's warning glance was too late. She hoped Herbert would not accept, but he did.

She behaved gallantly in a trying situation. Herbert lingered. Would he never go? Worst of all, Tom slipped away and left them alone together.

"May I come again, Lucia?" Herbert asked as he was leaving. "You know, I've scarcely had a glimpse of you since you left my office. I suppose if you don't see a fellow every day you forget all about him. Is that right?" Lucia looked coolly into his gray eyes, masking her own feelings. She had always heard that men of 50 preferred flappers. Wasn't that the way with Herbert? Look at all the girls in his office!

She was rid of him at last. She hoped she would never see him again. She did not expect to see him again after the way she had acted. Yet she cried about it. Tom, who had run out to the corner drug store after some tobacco, found her with her head in the sofa pillow.

"Pennoyer saw me on the sidewalk, stopped and brought me home," he said gayly. "We've been sitting out here in front for twenty minutes talking. What's the matter?"

"My head aches."

"He stroked her ruffled hair. "Poor old girl! I want to tell you something—"

"Oh, I know!" Lucia interrupted with a dry, hard sob. "You're going to marry Helen Pine."

"If she'll have me. Nothing's settled yet." Tom flushed. "That isn't it. It's about Pennoyer. He's crazy about you—always has been. He just told me so. First chance he gets he's going to ask you to marry him—"

Tom stopped abruptly. For Lucia was laughing, idiotically, glibly and with such joy as she had never before known in all her life.

RAILWAYS ARRANGE NEW CIRCLE TOUR

Jasper, Alta., June 29.—An arrangement has been completed by the Great Northern and Canadian National Railways to make available to tourists a circle tour of three of the greatest playgrounds in the world. Under it tourists will be able to visit Glacier National Park, Alberta, without loss of time and at considerable reduction in cost.

The inter-change point between the two companies will be Calgary where passengers for Jasper will take the Canadian National Railways and those for Waterton and Glacier will take Great Northern automobiles. The autos and the trains will make connections and summer tourist fares will apply in both cases. In the past it has only been possible for travellers to combine these places in one visit by making a round-about and expensive trip.

In Glacier and Waterton Parks the Great Northern Railway operates a number of splendid hotels among which are The Prince of Wales Hotel, the Glacier Park Hotel and the Many Glaciers Hotel. In Jasper, the Canadian National Railways operates Jasper Park Lodge, a unique and distinctive summer resort.

There are Two Sides to this Story

MOST people think of their Chevrolet dealer as a NEW-CAR dealer. . . partly because of the large number of new Chevrolets which they see on the streets. But, while new car sales are the Chevrolet dealer's biggest reason for being in business, they form only one side of his activities. He must not only sell cars but he must also exchange them.

Every good, successful Chevrolet dealer must also be a good, successful Used Car dealer.

From his experience in selling Chevrolet cars, he knows motor-car values. He knows that it is just as important for him to sell a Used Car as a new car. . . He knows that Used Car buyers have a right to as much for their dollar and are entitled to as complete satisfaction as new car buyers. . . He knows that satisfied Used Car owners will eventually become prospects for new cars. . . He knows the value of good-will.

In short, our business as Chevrolet dealers depends on our reputation as used car dealers. That is why you are sure of a square deal and a sound dollar-for-dollar value, when you buy a used car here. UC-7-7-28C

STELLAR ATTRACTIONS AT THE EDMONTON EXHIBITION

The mammoth Pageant at the Edmonton Exhibition, July 16 to 23, depicting the ever-welcome stories of "Mother Goose and Cinderella" will be staged on a grand and lavish scale by a specially selected cast of 650 people with the support of a children's chorus of 250 voices. The tales of Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary, Red Riding Hood, Old King Cole, Little Bo-Peep, Little Boy Blue, Jack Spratt, Simple Simon, Old Mother Hubbard, Alice in Wonderland, Little Miss Muffet, The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe and Cinderella will be presented in a truly fascinating manner. Another stellar attraction on Thursday, July 19th, will be the Amateur Band contest. Bands from Coronation, Camrose, Botha, Provost, Luscar, Wetaskiwin, Cold Lake and Halkirk have entered to date and the contest will be judged by Flight Lieutenant Amers, leader of H.M. Royal Air Force Band, which will be the leading musical feature of the Exhibition, giving two performances daily in front of the grandstand.

The races this year will offer splendid fields of the fastest runners in Western Canada in a 6-day program of races. Platform attractions will include a fine series of vaudeville acts and a scintillating display of fireworks will be given each night, following the conclusion of the grandstand performance. Midway attractions will again be in the capable hands of Johnny J. Jones. A Horse Shoe Pitching Tournament, starting Tuesday and concluding on Friday, is arousing great enthusiasm, and a Big Team Hitch Demonstration on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, under the capable direction of E. C. Hallam of Oliver Farm, will be of much interest to all farmers. A special railway rate of a fare and one-third for the round trip will be in force for the period of the Exhibition from all stations in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Free camping space is provided for out-of-town visitors and particulars in this regard may be obtained from the Exhibition offices in the Arena, Edmonton.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bradenburg of this city, received a very happy surprise on Monday afternoon, June 25, when about 100 of their Malmo and New Sweden friends gathered at their home to extend their good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Bradenburg on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. A delightful program of music and speeches was rendered, during the course of which, at the hands of little Harriett Swanson, Mrs. Bradenburg received a beautiful bouquet of roses, the gift of the Malmo Mission congregation, and a silver picture framed in silver, the handwork of Rev. Swanson, the pastor.

ANOTHER LAST INNING RALLY WINS B. R. TILT

Blanked Until Final Frame, Antlered Crew Slip Over Three Tallies to Win By Two-Run Margin Over Ponoka Team

The Wetaskiwin Battle River League team rambled through two games of baseball with the Bashaw gang without ringing up a counter and two days later, on Friday last, it looked as though a real world's record was going to be created, as the antlered crew travelled through five innings without scattering the home plate. The heavy rainfall at five o'clock to all intents and purposes put the kibosh on any game for that evening, but thanks to the activities of the Wetaskiwin Sports Association, we now got a ball diamond that is tolerably fit to play on right after a deluge.

It was a snorting good tussle at that. There was quite a sprinkling of fans at the ball yards when the boys warmed up, and they sure got their money's worth. It was mutually agreed that but seven innings would be played. It was snappy ball all the way, evidence of which is the fact that the game was played in less than an hour's time. The visitors scored their lone run in the second frame on Olsend's erratic heave to the initial pillow, followed by a two-sacker to deep left. The locals didn't look dangerous to the Ponoka line until the fourth, when Hodson crashed a beauty to centre and the cushions were plugged on errors at second and right. And the beauty of it was that there was nobody laid away. But, curses, Larson, Linskov and Svenson were victims of Dittburner's tightening-up process, the trio to order ozoning and leaving three heroes stranded on the corners. But ah, that sixth! It was Hodson who again started the works with a screamer to the middle pasture for two bags. With Ryan at bat things looked rosy to at least the score, but Pete hit them where they weren't. Larson grounded to short and the throw was low. Lundell singled to centre and the tying run was over. The runners advanced when Linskov was thrown out and Bell scorched one through third that brought victory to the homesters. All well enough, but Ponoka's antics at the opening of the seventh had all the earmarks of being a true make, as Bond led off with a single. Dittburner then slammed a burner which Rodvick grabbed in spectacular fashion, pegged to second, Lundell and Ryan completing a double play. Rodvick hurried consistently for the winners and Lundell's performance at second was a feature of the fray.

to left which went foul by inches, otherwise the result would have been knotted up. With two gone and W. Blades on second, following a single, Dancocks brought him over the platter with a fast one to right, the final score being 5 to 3 for Red Deer.

Viking 13, Innisfail 4

Runs—Innisfail 0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0—4
Viking 3 4 3 3 0 0 0 0 x—13

Hits—Innisfail 0 0 1 0 1 1 0 3—7
Viking 4 2 3 4 0 0 1 1 x—15

Errors—Innisfail 0 4 1 0 0 0 0 0 g—5
Viking 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 2 0—4

In the second game of the day it didn't take long for the spectators to figure out that the Viking crew would prove to be the class of the tournament and that the major slice of the tournament melon would be gobbled up by the purple gowning gang. The famous Goldworthy, of Edmonton, was elected to do hillcock duty for the Viking crew, and he took things so deviously easy that the game eventually became monotonous and the spectators filtered away before the finish. The Innisfail team, like the Ponoka boys, were particularly weak around the middle pillow, and the Viking crew took kindly to the offering of both "Lefty" McLennan and Giebert, amassing a total of fifteen hits, and running the bases at will. The Viking lads ran up a string of seven runs in the first two frames on six hits, four errors in that period having considerable to do with the avalanche. There remained nothing to do but go through the formality of finishing out the nine innings. McLennan retired from the box for a few innings, and fared better when he later returned, but the Innisfail game was badly outclassed. The work of catcher Robinson was a real feature and he is generally acclaimed the outstanding backstop of this north country. Goldworthy in the winter time plays hockey in the international pro League, and Clem Loughlin, who holds down the centre star for the winners, is one of the stars in the National pro hockey league.

Kommunity Karnival

the building, guaranteed of the best pedigree stock, disappeared like magic to be replenished from an apparently endless supply of man's best friend. The Boz Man, the Mystic Wash Bowl, the Dart game, Hoopla, and Bingo booths all had their optimistic patrons ready to back their skill with real cash.

The candles lit each evening burned at appointed time; the C.C.M. bicycle on Monday evening falling to L. F. Faulkner, who made an exact estimate of the time the candle would burn. On Tuesday evening Elmer Burke was the winner of the leather Morris Chair, and the grand prize for the closest estimate, the Orthophonic Victrola Paloma, fell to Th. Carnal who had been looked forward to and great energy went to its preparation. It proved to be in every way worth the time and effort put into it by the committee responsible for carrying it through.

PUPILS RECITAL

What proved assuredly to be the supreme musical event of the season, took place Sunday afternoon in the form of a matinee musicale at the Delard Hotel ballroom, by students of Mr. Gerard D. VanStockum.

The program was as follows: Elementary Grades—"Captain Kidd March," (D. Loeb), Lawrence Pond; "June Plovers Waltz," (Spatok), Jean George; "March of the Scouts," (Harris), Thelma Walker; "Arioso," (Bauman), Gerald George; "Sonatina in G," (Mozart), Marjorie Montgomery; "Il Trovatore" duet, (Verdi), Dale and Marian Manley; "By the Fireside," (Gurlitt), Edna Hall; "Valse Francaise," (Spatok), Isabel George; "Mazurka and Italian Song," (Tschalkowsky), Estor Somers; "Sons Solo," (Rebekoff), Alexander Lasell; "Out of the Dusk" (soprano), (O. Lee), Miss Vivian Millen.

Intermediate Grades—(a) "Rondo Gracioso," (Beethoven), (b) "Idylle," (Sir Edgar Elgar), Marie Lee; (a) "Rondo in D," (Mozart), (b) "Snow Drops," (April), (Tschalkowsky) Rena Watson; (a) "Mazurka," (Gardner) Kathleen Orr; "Impromptu Op. 90," (Schubert), Irene Brandt; "June Barcarole," (Tschalkowsky), Mrs. Meta Schreffels; "Fantasie in D Minor," (Mozart), Helen McArthur; (a) "Sonata in F," (Mozart), (b) "Valse," (Chopin), Violet Parker; (a) "Sonata in F No. 6," (Mozart), (b) "Impromptu Op. 142," (Schubert), Eva Walker; "Sonata Op. 31 No. 1," (Beethoven), Mae Roughtledge; Violin solo (soloist), Alexander Lasell; "Symphony in C," (Haydn), for Orchestra, sopranos and altos.

If the elementary grades a special attraction was the piano duet played by Dale and Marian Manley, splendidly interpreted, in correct time and tempo. The other youthful performers acquitted themselves excellently in the playing of their respective pieces.

Miss Vivian Millen gave a fine vocal solo with violin obligato by Mr. Van Stockum and Mrs. Schreffels at the piano.

In the senior sections some fine and difficult numbers were played by Eva Walker, Violet Parker, Kathleen Orr, Helen McArthur, Mrs. Schreffels and Irene Brandt, who all exhibited a fine technique and ability for artistic interpretations. Of the three Calgary students who motored up to take part in the performance, Mae Roughtledge gave a wonderful rendition of Beethoven's Sonata Op. 31 No. 1, which went at a very fast rate of speed, but with a clearness of phrasing and finish which left nothing to be desired.

Also the youthful Marie Lee and Rena Watson rendered their difficult numbers in good style and execution, while Rena Watson acted as violinist.

The climax was the Symphony in C by Haydn, for sopranos, altos, first and second violins, cello, piano, guitar, cello, nightingale, trumpet and big drum.

The whole program showed careful preparation and attention to detail and Mr. Van Stockum is to be congratulated upon the splendid results obtained from his pupils during his short term of residence in Wetaskiwin.

MADE HALF MILLION IN TWENTY YEARS

Edward C. J. Ueberrhein came to Western Canada twenty-five years ago from Germany with his profession of florist and general horticulturist as his only asset. He left with his wife last month for a year's holiday in Southern Europe, worth more than $500,000 in cash and government securities, the latter being chiefly Victory bonds.

After working at this business in Winnipeg for five years, he went to Medicine Hat, Alberta, to take charge of a small greenhouse plant, comprising about 10,000 square feet of glass, which had got into financial difficulties. He soon got the business into good shape and obtained control. He made the business an outstanding success, and kept putting his earned capital back into the plant until this year his glass houses had grown from the original 10,000 feet to nearly nine acres, and was bringing in a revenue of $50,000 a year. This earning capacity was considerably increased by extensions made last year. This establishment enjoys patronage from all

There are few men beginning without capital who have made such a success of a commercial enterprise as Mr. Ueberrhein has made with the Medicine Hat green-houses. At one time he believed that to create a big business one had to be in a large city, but now he holds a vastly different view on that subject. He attributes his success to giving personal attention to all details, watching his overhead expenses, putting his capital back into

Bible Students Answer Government Regarding Radio

Statutory Declaration:

Canada, Province of Ontario, County of Carleton. To Wit:

I, Walter Frederick Salter, of 83 Wembley Drive, Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, Vice-President and General Manager of the International Bible Students' Association of Canada, declare as follows:

1. I am Vice-President and General Manager of the International Bible Students' Association of Canada.

2. I have examined carefully the correspondence tabled by the Department of Marine and Fisheries in the House of Commons in response to the request for said correspondence by J. S. Woods, worth, Member of Parliament for North Centre Winnipeg, on behalf of A. A. Heaps, Member of Parliament for North Winnipeg, and find the letters of Divisional Radio Inspector S. J. Ellis of Toronto contain statements which I declare incorrect, viz:

(a) That we employed 100 returned soldiers to canvass for names to the petition of protest. The fact is that we did not employ anyone; that all the work was done freely and voluntarily by workers throughout Canada, some of whom were members of our Association; some of whom were citizens indignant at the action of the Government; and some of whom were returned soldiers, but the number of returned men working in Toronto could not at the outside number more than half a dozen. No one received payment for securing names to the said petition.

(b) That it is not true as implied by Inspector S. J. Ellis in his letter of March 26th, 1928, that we endeavored to get names to said petition by other than proper means.

(c) That it is not true that as stated in the letter of Inspector S. J. Ellis, dated June 29th, 1928, that we broadcast only propaganda. By propaganda is meant "the beliefs or tenets of an association or body of people." I declare that the churches that are broadcasting set forth what they profess to believe to be their proper interpretation of Scripture and so to be true to their claimed mission and needful to say their interpretations do not find favor with all. There should be no objection to any organization broadcasting a statement of their honest beliefs.

However, it is untrue that all our programs are of such a nature. Most of the time of the stations by far has been spent in broadcasting as follows:

Sacred and classical music. Educational lectures dealing with health and prevention of disease, fire protection, street traffic control, advantages of Ontario Hydro Electric, Ontario Educational System, attractions in Canada for tourists, technical education in Ontario, up-to-date world news items, travelogues, organ recitals by some of the nation's best organists, concerts for disabled veterans, the Toronto Police Force, etc.

(d) As to the statement of Inspector S. J. Ellis dated November 19, 1928, "I consider their programs nothing but propaganda and an advertising scheme to get money." This statement is incorrect. The Association or its members have never either directly or indirectly solicited funds to pay for the programs or for any other purpose. The Association is and was incorporated under letters patent from the Dominion of Canada as a non-profit association and has remained and will remain such. The sole purpose of the stations is for the entertainment of the public by educational and musical programs, etc., and by what Bible Students believe to be reasonable interpretation of the Holy Scriptures.

(e) The fact should not be overlooked that all the statements of Inspector Ellis are hearsay and gossip and are without foundation in fact.

(3) Considerable of the correspondence refers to the activities of the said Association prior to the issuance of radio broadcasting licenses and is therefore not relevant; three items refer to Vancouver, five to Edmonton, six to Saskatoon and the balance of the correspondence (80 pieces) to Toronto. This correspondence may be divided as to the nature of complaints as follows:

Eleven complaints that the Association is too frequently on the air, 19 complaints that the stations of the I.B.S.A. interfere with the reception of other stations by radio fans, 18 letters complaining of interference with sermons of a local Toronto preacher, 12 complaints in reference to wave length of CKCX (Toronto) being changed at the suggestion of the Department. A resolution by the Board of Trade of Saskatoon protesting against station CHUC being so often on the air. (This resolution was passed by a small gathering of 13 members out of a total membership of 512). A protest by Greater Vancouver Radio Association regarding their being too many stations operating on one wave length in Vancouver and suggesting that the I.B.S.A. station in Vancouver be eliminated. A criticism by Medical Health Officer of Edmonton of a lecture stating that "canned fruiting" and "vaccination" were objectionable. Two items contained in all nine letters appearing in the Press criticizing the Toronto broadcasting station of the Association. Three letters from various Members of Parliament requesting information from the Department of Marine and Fisheries. Memorandum from a popularity contest held by the Western Producer in Saskatchewan, 17 criticisms and a petition signed by 199 individuals complaining about the nature of the programs and the Biblical interpretations as presented by the speakers of the Association.

5. These complaints could largely have been readily adjusted to the satisfaction of all by a candid discussion between the Department and the Association. Opportunity for such was never given.

6. With respect to the popularity contest. This contest was put on by the Western Producer, the organ of the Wheat Pool, the circulation of which is largely among its own members and farmers in general. Naturally the Wheat Pool Station won. This station supplies market reports to the farmers. The contest was on behalf of advertisers seeking a radio advertising medium and as CHUC (Saskatoon), the I.B.S.A. station, was not seeking advertisers it did not canvas for votes as did other stations. While the farmers preferred the Station used by the Wheat Pool they did not wish CHUC discontinued.

7. To offset the 19 complaints with respect to programs and the petition signed by 199 names I might say that:

(a) The Premier, Members of Parliament and the Department itself received thousands of letters expressing approval of the programs and regret at their discontinuance.

(b) Over 20,000 letters expressing appreciation of the programs were forwarded, received, examined and acknowledged by the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

(c) The Press states that the Premier received over 1500 telegrams from all parts of Canada on the occasion of the closing down of the stations expressing indignation at the Government's action.

(d) Mass meetings were held throughout Canada from Halifax to Victoria by citizens, trades and labor councils, labor unions, farmers' organizations, lodges and religious bodies, all expressing regret at the action of the Government.

(e) A monster petition signed by 465,778 persons, of which number 84,432 signified that they were owners of radio receiving sets, calling upon the Premier to renew the licenses for International Bible Students' Association Radio Stations.

I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing it is of the true nature and effect as if made by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.

(Signed) W. F. SALTER.

Declared before me at Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, in the Province of Ontario, this 12th day of May, A.D. 1928.

STRIKING PAY DIRT

When Old Mac returned to Everett with his wretched burro after an absence of three months, the little town on the edge of the desert waxed humorous. Old Mac had been sorely missed—not because he was a person of importance, but because he was a logical target for the slanders of the corner-store loafers. And during his absence they had been forced to content themselves with the doubtful pleasure of flinging verbal darts at Whitely.

Rumor had it that Whitely was as old as Old Mac, but there were many who did not believe it possible. Both men were more aged than the town itself. Small boys believed they had come out in the original gold rush.

Old Mac and Whitely were the town characters. Old-timers claimed to remember when they had been friends and partners. The younger generation scoffed at the idea. They had been brought up on the feud of the two old men.

Old Mac lived in a lean-to at one end of the ramshackle town. Whitely existed in sordid solitude at the other. Forty years before there had been a great quarrel, starting with nothing and growing to staggering size. There had been a fight which Tom Spake, who was now sheriff of the county and himself rather advanced in years, spoke of occasionally with bated breath.

Old Mac did not stop at his shanty. He paused briefly at the bank and talked with Amos Borden, who was a mere sixty-five years of age. Then, stolidly, his ancient frame bent at the waist, his eyes narrowed by years of heat and dust and desert. Old Mac moved on up the street and stopped in front of the colorless cabin where Whitely lived. That was when rumor flew through Everett and folks forgot the heat. Old Mac visiting Whitely's house! It was funny—two such old men.

And it was tragic, too. Sheriff Spake was nervous.

Old Mac was fidgety when he entered the home of his ancient and one-time dearest friend. Whitely was staring a bit of bacon rind. He straightened his creaking joints and glared at his visitor.

"You git out of here, Mac, or there's gonna be trouble."

Mac bristled. "You ain't got no call talkin' to me 'thataway, Robert. I come to see you on business."

"You ain't got no business."

"We have. An' if you ain't decent to a body."

Two characters both. Paupers. Deprived, by their own stolid stubbornness, of the solace of friendship.

Old Mac's voice whined through the malodorous room. "I ain't no happier over talkin' to a scorpion than you think, Robert. But I'm a man of honor, I am, an' when I found what I found, there wasn't nothing else to do."

"Scorpion, am I? Why, you old—"

Whitely's voice crescendoed and died on a shrill note. "Say what you got to say, an' then git out."

Old Mac blinked his watery eyes. "All right, then. In the old days, before I learned how low-down an ornery you was, you an' I was partners. We never broke that partnership legal. Now I been out prospectin', an' I hit it, Robert." The old frame trembled with excitement. "I hit it, lad. Real pay dirt. Whole slews of it. An' right away I remembered that we was partners an' I come bustin' in to let you know that we've got what we looked for."

Whitely was staring. He shook his head dazedly. His voice was soft and quavery:

"Sto' now, Mac; talk'n no fair I should be settin' in on your strike. Ain't no reason."

"Hell!" snapped Mac. "Ain't we all ways been partners?"

"Fe-e-e-e!" he hector so.

An old gnarled hand came out. An—other had—just as pld, just as grimy, just as gnarled—elched about it. "You, you old scorpion!" said Old Mac, sheepishly.

A half hour later the town of Everett awoke in earnest. Tradition was being smashed. Down the street, from Whitely's house, came two old men. They wore shrewy and large, but ago had bent their figures and slowed their step. But they walked more firmly than the town had ever before seen them.

They were leaning on one another. The sheriff and Amos Borden stood together and stared at the apparition. "Well, I'll be damned," commented Borden. "Them two great big kids." He told the sheriff what he knew: of Old Mac's gold strike. "Must of gone right to Whitely because they used to be partners."

The banker shook his head doubtfully. "I got bad news for them, sheriff. That strike of Old Mac's ain't worth a darn."

The other did not answer. Immediately his eyes were focused upon the two old, old men who walked with arms about one another's shoulders. "Not worth a darn?" he repeated softly. Then he shook his head. "Perhaps that's what you think, Borden. But you'll never make those fellows believe it."

REMEMBER THE SUN SHINES SOMEWHERE

Lift up your blue eyes, Grille, Our load will lighten soon. Remember the mists of morning Fade in the heat of noon. Remember, the sun is shining. That somewhere hearts are light; Somewhere the bluebird is winging Its way in happy flight. And somewhere green waves are breaking.

Soft on a sandy shore. Smile for me again, my darling. Take hold of life once more. Yes, somewhere hearts are not breaking. And somewhere all is fair. And Providence will not give us A load we cannot bear.

PREVENTION OF HEART DISEASE

In Canada, during the year 1926, over 11,000 persons died of heart disease, the total deaths from all causes being approximately 107,000.

Heart disease which kills in adult life, is in a large percentage of cases, due to conditions which occurred in childhood. The prevention of heart disease therefore, in adult life, in many cases depends upon the proper care of the growing child.

Heart disease seems to be associated with the type of infection we call rheumatic. We do not know a great deal about this rheumatic infection but we know something of real value in the prevention of its serious results.

Growing pains in children should be considered as evidence of a rheumatic infection. They frequently precede definite attacks of rheumatism, chorea (St. Vitus dance) and heart conditions.

Sore throat or diseased tonsils without soreness of the throat are evidence of a possible centre or focus of the rheumatic infection.

Chorea is a rheumatic infection. At first it may be nothing more than a restlessness or fidgetiness, the jerky movements coming later.

All such cases should be placed under the family physician for treatment if heart disease is to be prevented.

Persons who have damaged hearts do not die of heart disease. If proper care be taken, they usually live a long time and die of some other malady. It is those persons who will not, or who practically cannot take proper care who grow progressively worse.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 124 College Street, Toronto, will be answered by letter. Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.

WORSE THAN DISEASE

(By Walt Mason)

I stopped two days at Bitter Springs, whose waters make disease take wings, if circulate don't lie; I planned to stay a month or two, and then I'd be as good as dead, and surely stacking high. I drank the water from a trough; it nearly burned my whiskers off, so potent was its kick; it tasted like a wombat's nest, and when it was inside my vest it made me deadly sick. A hundred invalids were there, their faces lined with grief and care, and voters with their wives; and every passing word or two they had to drink that witches' brew, to save their darkened lives. They wailed and shuddered as they sipped the water that was surely shipped from some infernal still; and as they stowed the stuff away they knew they'd shortly have to pay a more unsightly bill. For health reports are seldom run to gain experience or fun, the owners wisely plan to keep an eye on every seed that's nailing down the ailing lid, and nail it while they can. I took one drink at Bitter Springs, and then I cried aloud, "By jings, that one drink is enough; I'd rather suffer out and mumps and anthrax till I jump the pumps, than drink that horrid stuff. Health is a precious boon," I said, but it is better to be dead than full of juice like that; I will not drink this liquid gall, so bring to me my parascot, my corkscrew and my hat."

I left the Springs that afternoon, for health, although a 'boble' boon, too high in price appears, if one must lap up water vilo that tastes as though a crocodile had lived in it for years. What anguish we endure for health! How people dissipate their wealth to get release from pain! How tragic when the knowledge comes—accompanied by muffled drums—that it is all in vain!

HIGHEST IN PRIMARY ROOM

The pupils showing the highest aggregate marks for the year in the primary room, Millet, were as follows: Grade I.—Clarence Grapentine. Grade II.—Augusta Little. Grade III.—Allison Macdonald. Grade IV.—Tom Rowley and prizes were given by their teacher, Miss Pirie, to these pupils.

The prize of five dollars donated by the Millet Local of the U.F.W.A. for the highest aggregate, was won by Allison Macdonald, with Augusta Little a very close second, recognition of this high mark being made by the organization.

WEISENFORD W.I.

A large gathering of the Weisenford W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Crough for the June meeting. Visitors augmented the number present. The meeting of the "Canadians" opened the meeting. The roll call was responded to with members giving hints for picnic lunche, when some useful recipes were exchanged. Mrs. Fulcher's report on her visit to the convention at Calgary proved very interesting. She ably described in brief the fundamental principles of the most important lectures, which help to show that the Women's Institute is a useful, and what is more, an essential organization as regards women's interest and education.

HOW ABOUT ALBERTA

The women of Honolulu can see values bigger and better than immediate dollars.

The alms of this excellent club, The Outdoor Circle, as they were first formulated are as follows:

1. To plant shade trees in the streets.
2. To secure sidewalks and curbs.
3. To remove all old fences.
4. To rid the city of billboards.
5. To clean up vacant lots.
6. To park open spaces.
7. To establish playgrounds for children.
8. To conserve and develop the natural beauties of the landscape by encouraging the growth of native trees and shrubs, and the introduction of such new ones as belong to tropical life.

All billboards were banished from the Territory of Hawaii without legislative action, without official support of Government authorities, without illegal boycott and without damage to the commercial interests of the islands.

The campaign against billboards was first carried on through means of letters sent to advertisers. These letters urged the withdrawal of their outdoor advertising from the islands, and explained that the people of Hawaii would appreciate such co-operation towards the preservation of the scenic beauty of the landscape.

EVEN MORE

Peter was playing at Johnny's house. When it was time to go home, it started to rain. Mrs. White, however, gave Peter Johnny's rhinoceros and galoshes. "Don't take so much trouble, Mrs. White," said Peter politely.

"I'm sure your mother would do as much for Johnny," she replied.

"My mother would do more," said Peter. "She'd ask Johnny to stay to supper."

"BUT IN THE MAIN—"

Dr. Frank Robbins, assistant to the president at the University of Michigan, says that when someone says "in the main it is true," about any report, you had better look up the records and verify the facts, because it reminds one of the case of the two old dorky cooks who passed each other one day on the Mississippi levee.

Said one: "Hello, Mandy."

Said the other: "Hello, Lisa."

Said the first one: "Ah heah's yo' husband' win two dollars bettin' on a horse—am dat so?"

"Well," answered Mandy, "in de main it am. Only 'twaren't bettin', 'twas shootin' craps."

"Dat so?"

"Yessum, an' 'twaren't two dollahs, 'twas one."

"Yo' doan say!"

"An' he didn't win it, he lose it."

NEWSPAPER LAWS

Excerpts from Newspaper Law, printed for the benefit of any reader who may have mistaken ideas regarding same:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law) if the subscriber does not take the paper out of the post office and state the reason for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.

2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

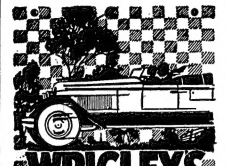

3. Any person who takes a paper from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he subscribes or not, is responsible for payment.

4. If a subscriber orders his paper stopped at a certain time and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post office. This follows the principle that a man must pay for what he uses.

Another Firm Out of Business---

Just one of the news items which are appearing in papers quite too often these days throughout the Dominion. And what is the reason. There is only one, and that is lack of loyalty to home institutions and the lure of the flashing publicity of the large city establishments. Many citizens, while earning their wages and salaries in one place, never the less send a large proportion of this money out of the community for questionable bargains, thus depriving such community of that much necessary working capital.

Business Men Do the Same

They have local firms who are able and ready to supply them with all their requirements, yet for the most trivial reason or excuse they will consent to extend this patronage to outside firms, thus helping to build up distant cities at the expense of their home town. They seem to forget that this money so sent out might otherwise have been largely returned to them by those with whom they should have left this business. Therefore, when in need of printed matter of any kind, whether farmer, business man or professional man, always extend first consideration to

HILLSIDE

Mr. L. W. Marr was a business visitor to Edmonton last Thursday.

Lyle Marr of Penhold, spent the weekend in the district.

Miss Jean Foster of Fort Saskatchewan, and who spent the week-end with her sister, returned home Sunday evening.

School closed on Thursday for the summer holidays, all examinations being over. Those writing on their 9th Grade were Kathleen Marr, Kenneth Swartz and James Hoskins.

Friday was clean-up day at the school grounds and night saw the ditch across the road filled with dead trees and logs, while a number of rubbish heaps lay in ashes.

Leslie Marr has been busy with his tractor grading the road west and north of the school house. A number of holes have been filled in and cars can now travel without the danger of breaking a spring.

Friday morning the children gathered at the school house to receive their report cards and prizes for the year's work.

The scholars took this opportunity of presenting to their teacher a snapshot album and mail. This was followed with three hearty cheers. The rest of the day was spent in playing games and running races. During the afternoon a basketball game was played between the "Tails and Shorts" the score being 2-1 in favor of the "Tails." There were lots of peanuts, ice cream and cakes and it was a happy crowd of children who wended their way home at five o'clock and as one child expressed his feelings "morelful."

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior U.F.A. was held in the school house on Saturday evening. Wallace Marr, in his able manner, gave the business report of the Farm Young People's convention. Charlie Robinson as visitor from the Juniors and delegate from the U.F.W.A. Local, gave a splendid report on the social activities. This was followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Miss Foster left on Sunday evening for her home in Fort Saskatchewan, where she will spend her vacation. We understand that Miss Foster has been engaged as teacher for the Hillside school for another term.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Young and children left on Wednesday for a two weeks' holiday to be spent in Calgary and Banff.

Mrs. H. Ward and family of Edmonton were callers in the district Monday.

Rev. L. B. and Mrs. Macdonald were visitors in the district Friday having dinner with the "clean-up" crowd on the school grounds.

Miss Lilla Marr is home for the summer holidays.

The bride was accompanied by her sister, Pearl Francis Nelson, while the groom was supported by the bride's brother, Clarence C. Nelson.

The bride, who has been teaching at the Cherry Grove school, looked very charming in a gown of blue crepe de chene and wore a necklace of pearls. The bridesmaid wore a dress of green pale pink silk.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home on their farm at Camrose.
